Virtual Resources for College Decisions

Many of you were probably planning on visiting or revisiting college campuses this spring to help decide which school you would like to attend. While nothing replaces the experience of a tour in person, you can still find a personalized experience in our new reality. Here are some suggestions:

- College websites, social media, and official YouTube channels offer tons of content, including virtual tours, student blogs, and much more!
- Have an email exchange or video conference with an admissions representative.
- Reach out to a current or past student from that school.
- www.campusreel.org provides over 15,000 FREE videos from over 300 colleges.
- www.youvisit.com has FREE virtual tours of over 600 schools.
